BIO

I am a postdoctoral researcher working with Giovanni Vigna and Christopher Kruegel in the SecLab at UC Santa Barbara. My research interests focus on several aspects of systems security. Currently, I am actively involved in projects related to automated vulnerability discovery (in firmware blobs and Android applications), and related to human-assisted cyber reasoning systems.

I earned a Ph.D at EURECOM, where I was advised by Davide Balzarotti. Among other things, we investigated how non-atomic acquisitions impact the consistency of memory dumps, and we developed a framework to discover and to assess the quality of memory forensics heuristics.

When I am away from keyboard, I enjoy hiking, rock climbing, surfing, and playing chess.

EDUCATION

Postdoctoral Researcher Jan 2020-Current
University of California, Santa Barbara, US

Doctor in Philosophy (PhD) Jan 2016-Sept 2019
Eurecom, France
Thesis: Advances in Memory Forensics

MSc in Computer Science Feb 2013-Oct 2015
Universitá degli Studi di Milano, Italy
Thesis: Defeating Return Oriented Programming Attacks Using Program Analysis Techniques
Graduated with a final grade of 110/110 cum laude

Internship Feb 2015-May 2015
Eurecom, France

Erasmus Jan 2014-Jun 2014
Uppsala University, Sweden

BSc in Computer Science Sep 2009-Feb 2013
Universitá degli Studi di Milano, Italy
Thesis: When Hardware Meets Software: A Bulletproof Solution to Forensic Memory Acquisition
Graduated with a final grade of 107/110
